Jude Freeman

An exhibition of intricate mosaics

Sunday 24th April to 25th May 2011

Jude's contemporary unusual textural surface for mosaics is achieved by placing the tesserae close together without the use of grout. The materials used range from semi-precious stones and found objects to her own ceramic tiles. Jude's mosaics are inspired by her extensive travels and the materials are often collected en route.

Jude will be at 45 Southside® on Sunday the 24th of April 2011 from 3:00 to 5:00 pm. All are welcome.
